PROSPECTUS

INTRODUCTION

With the benevolence and blessings of Lord Sri Venkateswara and the indomitable will and untiring efforts of His Excellency Shri Rameshwar Thakur Ji the then Governor of Andhra Pradesh, Sri Venkateswara Vedic University was established in July, 2006, under the sponsorship of Tirumala Tirupati Devasthanams. The Cabinet of Andhra Pradesh in its meeting held on 7th July 2006, decided to establish Sri Venkateswara Vedic University, and requested His Excellency Governor to promulgate the ordinance providing for the establishment of the University. On 12th July, 2006, His Excellency promulgated the ordinance. Thus the University came into existence. The ordinance was later replaced by the Act, 29/2006.

Since then the university has gone far beyond in all spheres of its motives pocketing dazzling achievements. During the early stages of its inception courses including Vedas, Agamas, Pourohitya, Vedabhasya, Vedangas and Sastras were begun. Gradually these six faculties and twenty five departments have grown. Aiming to achieve the fourth objective, the conception of General Courses occurred with the introduction of B.A., B.Sc. and M.A. in the academic Year 2012-13. So far five batches each, pertaining to UG and PG levels, have successfully completed their courses and gone out with their degrees.

OBJECTIVES:

1. To preserve, foster and promote oral traditions of Literature related to Vedas, Agamas and other cognate subjects and decipher their reflections in allied subjects.
2. To conduct research and propagate the relevance of knowledge system and the wisdom contained in the Vedic literature for meeting the challenges of life in the technology driven contemporary society; though allied in subjects in General Courses.
3. To elicit the profundity of cognitive techniques and scientific disposition unveiled in the Vedas and their application through allied subjects in General courses.
4. To revive, consolidate and promote the Scientific thought contained in the Vedas in various fields like Agriculture, Astronomy, Physics, Botany, Zoology, Chemistry, Mathematics, Metallurgy, Meteorology and Yoga; integrate them with their counterparts in modern knowledge systems.
5. To compare and contrast various aspects of social sciences like history, economics, politics in Vedic and contemporary literature; and evolve a system or concept that is a salubrious blend; for the advancement of human society.
6. To create a body of literature in all modern Indian languages on the content of the Vedas; and the research carried on therein.
7. To translate and publish the Vedic literature in all Indian modern Languages.
8. To achieve the global propagation of Vedic knowledge through audio recordings of Vedic rituals and various rituals; and commentaries and explanations in various languages.
9. To aid in the authentic interpretation of Vedas in India and abroad; and thereby facilitate the understanding of their rational and scientific approach to life, through translations.
10. To contribute to the propagation of models and pictures of tools and implements used in various kinds of rituals; as a cautionary measure of preservation.
11. To digitize and to computerize Vedas.
12. To organize and conduct seminars, conferences and workshops; with the idea of propagating Vedic knowledge in the society.

LOCATION, LAND AND CONSTRUCTION

Sri Venkateswara Vedic University, a pearl nestled in the oyster shell of the Seven Hills, on the Alipiri – Chandragiri By-Pass Road; is a serene and sanctified premise. Tirumala Tirupathi Devasthanams allotted 300 acres of land near Alipiri, Tirupathi for S.V.Vedic University for construction of buildings.

The major part of construction work has been completed and in this wake all the departments of the University including Academic Centre and Administrative Buildings have become functionary in place of pleasant landscape, which is replete with heart attracting flora and fauna.

Saradadhama, the cluster of the Academic Buildings which include Brahma Sadanam, Agama Nilayam, Grihya Sadanam and Vidyaranya Nilayam; offer a healthy ambience for students to educate themselves in the lap of this picturesque environment. RAMESWARAM, named fondly in honour of the revered Founder Chancellor, is a majestic and impressive structure housing the stalwarts of administration and the official machinery. The Annapurna Sadanam, a spacious dining hall, adjacent to the students' hostels buildings; endears itself to one and all.

UGC RECOGNITION

Sri Venkateswara Vedic University is the first University statutorily established with unique features for promotion and propagation of Vedic wisdom. The University Grants Commission vide its notification No. F.9-4/ 2007(CPP-I), dated 10th July 2007 recognized Sri Venkateswara Vedic University under section 2(f) of UGC Act 1956.

OUR EMBLEM

1. The round shape of the emblem denotes the Vedic Passage “Purnamadah Purnamidam” conveying a sense of all pervasive Supreme Soul, the pace of time and uninterrupted devolution.
2. The blue colour symbolizes Lord Sri Krishna and infinity.
3. The “Omkara” is the beginning of the Vedas and the creation.
4. The Urdhvapundra reminds us the Venkatesa tattva emerged from “Omkara”. It also resembles an open book containing knowledge. The red stroke in the middle resembles the up going flame of a lamp symbolizing the spread of knowledge.
5. The byline teaches us to follow the path unfolded by the Vedas.
